REDEFINING VIDEO PRODUCTION WORKFLOWS FOREVER

Are you looking for a portable 4K monitor to use in the field and the studio?

1. On-site, at a photoshoot, a 4K monitor is perfect for showing a live view from the 4K camera in precise focus.
2. A lack of AC power in the field means you need a monitor that includes a battery.
3. Back in the studio, checking back over video footage, most large-screen monitors mean the images are blurred.

So what are your options?

- A 7" monitor gives you portability, but not the screen size or resolution you need.
- Large monitors have the size, but they're hard to carry and need AC power.

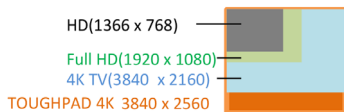

Panasonic can now offer you the ideal alternative.
The TOUGHPAD 4K 2-in-1 tablet and monitor.
And it's redefining video production workflows forever.

Welcome to the world's first 4K-input 20" tablet PC.

Check 4K video from a 4K camera in the field

The HDMI 2.0 (HCCP 2.2) input port enables film production companies to monitor pictures and videos directly in the field during a shoot, at resolutions up to 4K 60p. The SD card slot allows your broadcast team to write data on SD cards that can be easily shared across multiple devices.

20" screen delivers 4xHD resolution

The TOUGHPAD 4K has a wide viewing angle, 20" IPSα LCD screen that supports 4K resolution, which is an amazing four times higher than Full HD.

Lightweight design and in-built battery provide portability

Weighing just 2.49kg and measuring only 12.5mm in depth, the TOUGHPAD 4K combines portability with an in-built battery for 'work anywhere' capability.

More than a monitor

As a tablet PC with full Windows OS, the TOUGHPAD 4K does far more than a monitor. It's easy to install photo/video editing applications, you can zoom in and out of live footage, and multiple ports make connectivity with other devices straightforward. Finally, as a business rugged device carrying a 3-year guarantee and optional accidental damage warranty, it's a safe and secure option.

Panasonic AG-DVX200 4K Camcorder

The world's first* 4/3-type large format, 4K 60p camcorder to feature an integrated zoom lens, Panasonic's AG-DVX200 4K Camcorder is the perfect partner for the TOUGHPAD 4K.
